BILL ANALYSIS

By: Ashley Smith

C.S.H.J.R. 5

BACKGROUND

Economic development efforts in other states can be characterized as covering a wide variety of creative approaches, in each state's attempts to prepare itself for a changing national and international economy. New and creative ideas are needed to remain competitive with other states and with overseas competitors.

In particular, various states provide a wide array of financing mechanisms for business research and development and for start-ups and expansions, ranging from loans and loan guarantees to grants and equity buy-ins. Vehicles used to channel economic development financing vary from state to state, with a number of models Texas can evaluate for future use.

One difficulty faced by Texas in developing mechanisms to foster economic growth and job creation is the constitutional constraint on the use of state funds for private purposes. Other states appear to have successfully developed programs with adequate safeguards against possible abuses of public monies. Texas, however, will have difficulty in implementing these models of financing for economic development that have been successful elsewhere, until constitutional language that clarifies economic development as a public purpose is adopted.

PURPOSE

This resolution amends the constitution so as to allow the legislature to make loans and grants of public money for the public purpose of economic development, notwithstanding other provisions of the constitution. It also sets restrictions on the authorization of bonds or other obligations, requiring a majority vote of the affected populace.

SECTION-BY-SECTION ANALYSIS

SECTION 1: AMENDMENT OF ARTICLE III OF THE CONSTITUTION

Section 52A is added which allows the legislature to make loans and grants of public money for public purposes related to economic development. The legislature may not authorize, for the purpose of economic development, the issuance of bonds or other obligations by a political subdivision of the state that are payable from ad valorem taxes without approval by a majority vote of the voters of that subdivision. Enabling laws anticipating this amendment are not void.

SECTION 2: ELECTION

Language of amendment to be submitted to voters on November 3, 1987.

RULEMAKING AUTHORITY

It is the opinion of this committee that this bill does not delegate any rulemaking authority to any state agency, commission, or officer.

SUMMARY OF COMMITTEE ACTION

Public notice was posted in accordance to the rules and a public hearing was held on March 3, 1987.

Testifying for the bill were Jerry Turner; Ted Willis, representing the Texas Municipal League; Robert Stluka, representing the National Federation of Independent Business; Jay Kayne, representing the Texas Economic Development Commission; and Robert Randolph, representing Vinson & Elkins Law Office.

Jared Hazleton, representing the Texas Research League, testified on the bill.

The bill was referred to the Subcommittee on Economic Development. On Wednesday, March 18th, the Subcommittee on Economic Development met in a formal meeting and voted to report the measure as substituted.

On Tuesday, March 24, the full committee voted to report H.J.R. 5 to the House as substituted with the recommendation that it do pass by a record vote of 6 ayes, -0- nays, -0- present, not voting, and 3 absent.

COMPARISON OF ORIGINAL BILL TO SUBSTITUTE

C.S.H.J.R. 5 clarifies the language related to voting in H.J.R. 5, and adds a statement that an enabling law passed in this session is not void because of its anticipatory character.

H.J.R. No. 5

A JOINT RESOLUTION

1 proposing a constitutional amendment authorizing the legislature to
2 provide assistance to encourage economic development in the state.

3 BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

4 SECTION 1. Article III of the Texas Constitution is amended
5 by adding Section 52-a to read as follows:

6 Sec. 52-a. Notwithstanding any other provision of this
7 constitution, the legislature may provide for the creation of
8 programs and the making of loans and grants of public money, other
9 than money otherwise dedicated by this constitution to use for a
10 different purpose, for the public purposes of development and 11 diversification of the economy of the state, the elimination of 12 unemployment or underemployment in the state, the stimulation of 13 agricultural innovation, the fostering of the growth of enterprises
14 based on agriculture, or the development or expansion of 15 transportation or commerce in the state. Any bonds or other
16 obligations of a county, municipality, or other political
17 subdivision of the state that are issued for the purpose of making
18 loans or grants in connection with a program authorized by the
19 legislature under this section and that are payable from ad valorem
20 taxes must be approved by a vote of the majority of the registered
21 voters of the county, municipality, or political subdivision voting
22 on the issue. An enabling law enacted by the legislature in 23 anticipation of the adoption of this amendment is not void because 24 of its anticipatory character.

1 SECTION 2. This proposed amendment shall be submitted to the
2 voters at an election to be held November 3, 1987. The ballot
3 shall be printed to provide for voting for or against the 4 proposition: "The constitutional amendment authorizing the
